

CICE Open Seminar Series (180th)

Important or Just Trendy? The New World of Education Financing.

Seminar 3: Possibilities for Japan

The first two seminars described the growth of the private sector in education, examined some promising new financing instruments and noted the general shift towards results and results-based financing.

This third and last seminar will explore how Japan's international education cooperation policy might adopt some of the most promising possibilities while still maintaining the key principles of Japanese aid.

Nicholas Burnett Ph.D.

Nicholas Burnett, Visiting Professor at CICE, is Managing Director for Education at Results for Development and was formerly UNESCO Assistant Director-General for Education, Director of the Education for All Global Monitoring Report, and a senior World Bank manager for human development in Africa. He was one of the main authors of the report of the Leading Group on Innovative Financing's Task Force on Education.
