What memories of war and/or the atomic bombings should be passed on? By whom, for what purpose, for whom, and how? Is the memory of the war/atomic bombing experience relevant to the younger generation, or to future ones, living in an age of uncertainty with political, economic, international, social, environmental and other multiple challenges? Can such memories become a heritage for peace? Drawing on frank discussions between the speakers and the audience, this symposium aims to create a clear vision of participatory communication and inheritance of war/atomic bomb memory.

どんな原爆・戦争の記憶を、一体誰が、何の目的で、誰のために、どんな手段で伝えるのか。政治経済、国際社会、環境など多重の問題を抱えた世界的な不確実性の時代。これからの世代に、原爆体験・戦争記憶をどのように継承するのか。記憶は未来に託す平和遺産になり得る。本シンポジウムでは、「かさならない」議論を通じて、社会背景や世代を超えた参加型の原爆体験の継承に向けた具体的なビジョンと方策を導きます。
